

Nice Comments Said about Our “Wet Paint” Color Swatches

- Your testers allow me to test more colors than I could afford to buy if I had to test quarts.
- I'm so glad you talked me into testing my choice of color before I bought those two gallons. I would have made a big mistake if I hadn't tested first.
- I have bought 25 “Wet Paint” Color Swatches so far to try to determine the best color. My husband would have filed for divorce if I had spent the money to test the quarts
- My basement is full of quarts and gallons of paint I will never use. Thanks to your testers, I won't be adding to my need of disposing of all that paint some day.
- Thanks so much for going to the trouble to make your samplers. I have felt for years there has to be a better alternative in selecting paint color.
- Those little paper paint chips on the rack in paint stores are so misleading. The actual paint color seem to look so much different in my house.
- I do a lot of faux finishes. The bottles you provide allow me to see what one color will look like over another color very quickly and inexpensively.
- I shopped at your store for years. I moved to New Jersey and looked all over with no luck finding the “Wet Paint” Color Swatches you sold me in Denver. Thank you for sending me the testers. Even though you did not get to sell me the paint, please know you have provided a wonderful service by helping a person in need.
- I am sorry to say I really prefer to use a paint brand you do not sell. You were very nice to provide the little paint bottles to help me find a color I like, even though I had the other paint company match the color I found from you.
- It only takes a few brush-fulls for me to determine if the color I picked is wrong. When I am wrong, I feel better if I have not spent much and do not have a lot of extra paint I really don't want.
- This is the most wonderful, helpful program I have ever seen in a paint store. Even those computers that let you paint a house on screen don't really show you what the true paint color will look like.
- I have found another advantage of your “Wet Paint” bottles you may not have considered: They reduce the number of domestic quarrels.
- Because of the low cost to test colors, I feel less anxiety out of making a color mistake.
- The little bottles are so much easier to carry around than the quarts. I can put these 10 samples in my purse to take to my client. (from an interior designer)
- My painter told me to have decided on a color before he came to paint my house. He told me to buy your “Wet Paint” Color Swatches and make my color decision and he would just order the amount of paint needed. I'm so glad he knew about your store.
- I love your testers. I just tell my customer that they are the important one to please and that they can save money on their painting bill if they decide on their color before I arrive to paint. I think my customers have a lot of fun with your testers and they save me a ton of time. (from a professional painter)
